Nottingham fiction publisher Weather vane Press announces the forthcoming publication on 28/09/09 of their latest novel:

AZTEC LOVE SONG

A turbulent thriller set in Glasgow by local playwright and novelist:
MARTY ROSS

Mysterious Melinda Carido returns to her birthplace with only one thing on her mind:

Vengeance.

And her long absence in Central America has taught her all she needs to know about retribution: revenge with all the violent, terrible beauty of an Aztec sacrifice...

Aztec Love Song is the fiction debut of Marty Ross, who has chilled and thrilled listeners with radio dramas such as Radio 4's 'The Darker Side of the Border,' and BBC 7's 'Ghost Zone' and 'Catch my Breath'. Now his flair for suspense and psychological drama explodes onto the page as the dangerous passions of this noir thriller shatter the serenity of a genteel Glasgow suburb.
